Veterinary Office Assistant - 8 Month Program

Shannon Campbell is an excellent example of how hard work and dedication can pay tremendous dividends.

Shannon recently graduated from Robertson College's Veterinary Office Assistant program and is already happily employed at the Tuxedo Animal Hospital. "I was hired right from my practicum," boasts Shannon "and I absolutely love my job."

This level of job satisfaction is not uncommon amongst Veterinary Assistants as they are able to fulfill their love of animals by working with them every day. "I am doing much more than I originally anticipated" says Shannon, "I assist the Veterinarians and Animal Health Technologists with things like helping with x-rays, assisting with blood collection and animal restraint when required. My employer is very happy with the skill set that I bring to the job."

Shannon worked diligently at her studies and as a result graduated on the honour roll and at the top of her class. She warns that you can't "slide past" in this course and a lot of hard work is required to be successful, but the end reward is worth it.

When asked what her favourite part of the job is, Shannon responds "being there for the animals when they are sick and then seeing them go home afterward. I would recommend this career to anyone who enjoys being around animals."

Robertson's Veterinary Office Assistant 8 month program has trained a number of graduates for successful positions in Veterinary clinics, pet hospitals, pet stores and Humane Societies. This semestered program has entry points throughout the year and the next start date is February 7.

The college offers career counseling and career placement services, and boasts a job placement rate for this course in excess of 90%.

"I couldn't do what I am right now without the knowledge and training that I got in class" advises Shannon.
